

U.S. To Set Pace For Reduction Of Navies

Will Offer Program at Coming Conference That Will Test Courage of Statesmen
PLAN FAIR TO ALL NATIONS
Facts Concerning Proposals Arranged by Departments Carefully Guarded

By Lawrence Martin
Washington.—The United States will offer to set the pace for the rest of the world in disarmament. At the coming arms conference, this government will present a generous and far reaching offer to limit the American navy within certain definite limits.

It thus enunciates a policy expressed to the United Press Saturday by a member of the American delegation as "removing the armament beam from our own eyes before we ask our neighbors to remove the mote from theirs."

The American delegation is now preparing the American offer, together with the general plan for world armament limitation, concerning which the United Press made an exclusive announcement early in the present week.

While details of the American offer are being closely guarded against publicity, it can be stated that they will put into effect a more substantial reduction in expenditures for naval armament than many of the most optimistic have hoped for.

Neither the American plan nor the general, worldwide plan, have been completely worked out. The navy department submitted in detail all the facts and figures needed for constructing workable projects of armament limitation.

In general, it is possible to state, the disposition of the American delegates has been to outline a program that really stops the race for world naval supremacy without leaving any nation with an unfair advantage.

The present strength of the leading navies and their prospective strength upon completion of building programs already authorized were both used by the experts in outlining the program.

Members of the senate who were shown, in confidence, some of the preliminary calculations, said every indication pointed to the proposing by this government of "a program that will test the faith and perhaps the courage of the world's statesmen."

BOB DEMANDS THAT MELLON QUIT POST

Badger Senator Resents Defiance of Official in Favor of Wealthy

By Fraser Edwards
Washington.—Retirement of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon was demanded in the senate Saturday by Senator La Follette of Wisconsin, on the ground that "the fiscal policy of the government had impudently and brazenly declared that wealth could not be made to pay its fair share of taxes and the people must take up the burden."

La Follette's demand for the retirement of Mellon came during the debate on his amendment providing for pitiless publicity on all income tax returns.

The first of a series of amendments to the pending tax bill, offered by Senator La Follette, Wisconsin, to turn the searchlight of publicity upon income records of wealthy individuals and corporations was adopted by the senate Saturday by a vote of 38 to 11.

A verdict of second degree murder was brought in by the jury at 3 p. m. yesterday after 24 hours deliberation.

NEW WIRELESS TO CONNECT WORLD

Fort Jefferson, N. Y.—Pressing a key in the White house, President Harding this afternoon started machinery which put in operation the largest and most powerful wireless station in the world.

The new station is the radio central located near here, 70 miles from New York. It has practicality a worldwide range, preliminary tests having been heard in Europe as well as Australia, South America and Japan. The plant was constructed under direction of the Radio Corporation of America.

Child's Life Is Penalty For Making Hootch

By United Press Leased Wire
Detroit, Mich.—Fumes from a whiskey still Saturday killed three year old Grace Bartoletta. Her two sisters and mother were overcome by the fumes and are in a serious condition. Little hope is held for their recovery.

STAGG'S WARRIORS START BIG BATTLE

By United Press Leased Wire

Workman went through for three. Stewart punted to Pyott who was downed on Chicago's 45 yard line. Blair gained two around right end. Timme hit right tackle for one yard.

Ohio broke up a Chicago forward pass play. Romney punted out of bounds on Ohio's 25 yard line. Taylor plunged through for two yards. Stuart dived through right tackle for four yards. A forward pass, Romney to Crisler, made it first down on Ohio's 40 yard line.

Workman sneaked through for one yard, but Ohio State was penalized 15 yards for holding, taking the ball to their own seven yard line. Stuart gained 3 around right end. Pyott failed to gain. Stuart intercepted a forward pass from Romney and was downed on Ohio's 40 yard line. The quarter ended: Chicago 0; Ohio State 0.

SMALL TRIAL TO BEGIN ON NOV. 14

Waukegan, Ill.—Governor Len Small will not go on trial before December 14 on charges of embezzling large sums of state funds, according to preparations made by the Lake county court Saturday.

The change of venue in the case from Sangamon county was completed when Charles H. Koehne, clerk of the court of that county, deposited the voluminous record of the case with the clerk of Lake county court. State Attorney C. F. Mortimer accompanied Koehne.

A damage suit is now pending in court and with other cases coming up, it was doubtful if the case could get under way before the middle of December.

LESS UNEMPLOYMENT IN WISCONSIN NOW

By United Press Leased Wire
Milwaukee.—Unemployment has been materially reduced, according to a report of the United States employment bureau issued here Saturday.

There are many calls on file at the bureau, it was reported, for men to work in the northern woods, but because of the fares not being advanced as in former years, the demands are hard to fill.

UP TO U. S. TO DECIDE ON HER WORLD POLICY

Conference of Governments at Armament Parley is Notable Advance

SIZE OF NAVY BIG ISSUE

Republican Ambition for Association of Nations May Become a Reality

By David Lawrence
Copyright 1921 by Post Pub. Co.
(In this sixth and last of a series of preliminary dispatches on the armament conference, David Lawrence, famous Washington correspondent, tells the crux of the whole situation and predicts the success of the conference.)

Washington—After all the formalities and ceremonies are out of the way and the armament conference gets down to brass tacks, the United States government, if it desires to assume the leadership, must answer for itself these questions:

What shall be the purpose of the United States Navy in the future? Shall it be large enough simply to relieve distressed Americans in various parts of Central and South America? If so, then a few ships are sufficient.

Shall the navy be big enough to defend the Atlantic and Pacific coasts from any enemy whatsoever? Then it must be as large as the greatest navy, namely the British.

Shall the American navy be as large as that of any power except Great Britain? Shall it be greater than that of Japan? The answer is the maintenance then of a navy as big as our present establishment and the continuance of the present cost.

Must Decide Policy

In other words, what is the foreign policy of America to be—aggressive or defensive, worldwide, or purely national.

Obviously it would be cheaper if America and Great Britain could agree to act together in the future, as they did in the European war. The combined strength of the two navies would be able to overcome any potential foe. But an alliance with one nation is considered dangerous—it only leads to the growth of other alliances to offset the first. So a general combination of all naval powers would be rather to preserve the peace would be a made—an association of nations.

If there is an agreement on Far Eastern questions and all the nations including Japan sign it, the various navies will be morally bound to see that Japan keeps faith. It isn't necessary to prescribe penalties in advance. The European nations have given evidence of what they will do if treaties are made "scraps of paper." America prefers freedom of action—the right to determine the nature of the violation and what it shall do at the moment. That's where President Harding differs from Woodrow Wilson, but basically they have the same purpose of international cooperation and consultation to preserve peace.

Whether the official representatives of great governments get together, face to face, look each other in the eyes and debate their disputes, an advance has been made over the dangerous method of long distance cable communication with evasive phrases and language that develops friction and misunderstanding. International conference is always a tonic for nations which are afflicted with smouldering controversies. But, best of all, the conference is to take place in free America, where the press is untrammelled, unsubsidized, uninfluenced by any government and where public opinion functions freely and effectively. It will not be like the atmosphere in Paris where an oppressive cloud hung over the whole conference, a cloud of propaganda, government-inspired editorials, back door deals and trickery.

The conferences will be held in secret here, but what happens will be said as secret as the things that are said and done in executive sessions of the United States senate. America's delegation will have every reason to let in the air and take the public into its confidence. Already there is evidence that Secretary Hughes means to play his cards face up on the table and that the press of America will back him up not only in printing the truth as he gives it to them but in holding him responsible to the facts untainted by alien inspiration or color.

THEY COULDN'T GET TOGETHER SOMEHOW FOR 39 LONG YEARS

St. Paul.—For 39 years fate kept Mrs. I. Schaefer of New York and her brother J. E. Schaefer of St. Paul, from seeing each other. He made frequent visits east but she was in Europe much of the time. Mrs. Schaefer often came west, but never connected with her brother. Stopping off enroute from Los Angeles, Mrs. Schaefer found her brother at home. Each claimed the other "hadn't changed a bit."

CATCH MAN USING 2 LIQUOR STILL

While engaged in the work of turning out a batch of tea-colored moonshine, Alban Wilpolt was surprised in the woodshed at his father's farm three and one-half miles east of Kaukauna at noon Saturday by Prohibition Officer William P. Martin of Green Bay. Sheriff P. G. Schwartz and Deputy Joseph Versteeg.

Upware that the hand of the law was at the door ready to clutch him, Wilpolt was busily supervising his two five-gallon stills which were in full steam. At the approach of the officers he ran out through the back door but stopped when he was ordered to halt.

The officers secured samples of liquor and Wilpolt was placed in custody and taken to the county jail. A quantity of mash and liquor was dumped out but the stills were confiscated and were to be offered as evidence in municipal court Saturday afternoon when Wilpolt was arraigned on a charge of violating prohibition laws.

Order Miners Back To Work Or Leave Union

Order to Kansas Workers Expected to Cause Showdown Over Insurrection — Unions Resume Work Pending Court Decision.

By United Press Leased Wire
Pittsburg, Kansas.—Striking miners in southern Kansas were Saturday given ten days to return to work or be ousted from the United Mine Workers of America, in orders issued by George Peck, acting president of the district.

About 9,000 miners remain on strike and are operating a "rump" union as a protest against jailing of Alexander Howat, suspended district president, for violating the industrial court law.

The Peck order declared that contracts between mine operators and the United Mine Workers must be observed. He promised membership protection to all who returned to work.

The order is expected in many quarters to bring about a final "showdown" in the fight over the Howat insurrection.

Chicago.—Thirty-five thousand coal miners, on strike in central states against the check off injunction, were expected to return to work by Monday pending final action by the United States circuit court of appeals.

The court now has the writ issued by Judge A. B. Anderson in Indiana, under consideration. Transcripts of all the evidence and arguments presented in the Indianapolis courts will be studied by the judges prior to Nov. 15 when a hearing will be held.

The court ordered enforcement of the injunction shall be held in abeyance pending the appeal.

In case the Anderson injunction is upheld finally and operators are ordered to refuse to collect union dues from workmen by withholding the assessments from their pay, there is no doubt but there will be a general strike.

NEED MISS BLAKE IN ARBUCKLE TRIAL

San Francisco.—District Attorney Matthew Brady Saturday had detectives trying to locate Miss Blake, star witness for the prosecution in the case of Roscoe Arbuckle.

Miss Blake was known to be with her mother Friday but early Saturday neither she nor her mother could be located by the district attorney.

Brady declared that if Miss Blake is not found this morning he will have her elated and placed under the charge of the court pending Arbuckle's trial.

Arbuckle's trial for manslaughter as a result of the death of Virginia Rappe still is formally set for Monday but it was practically certain it will be continued until November 14.

CHICAGO TENDERS FOCH BIG WELCOME

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago.—Ferdinand Foch was given the reception of a conqueror by Chicago Saturday.

Hundreds of thousands of persons jammed the Pennsylvania depot and lined the streets leading from the station when the general who led the allied armies in France, arrived from Indianapolis.

All city employees were given a full holiday in honor of the visit of the distinguished French general.

School children crowded into Grant park, where the first official greeting from heads of the state and city government, took place.

Governor Len Small, Mayor William Hale Thompson and others were on the program to welcome Foch.

The degree of doctor of laws was conferred on the guest by the University of Chicago. A great crowd of visitors for the Ohio State-Chicago football game was on the campus when the party arrived.

BETTER CHANCE FOR CHILDREN URGED

Gov. Blaine Urges Teachers to Make Possibilities for the Child Greater

By United Press Leased Wire
Milwaukee.—Gov. John J. Blaine, in his address to members of the Wisconsin Teachers' association in convention here Friday night urged that children be given a better chance.

"As we eliminate the novel and the tenement, remove the children from the deadly effects of industrial employment and protect women who may be forced to industry by economic pressure, we will in part enhance the possibility of children of the future to be well born," said the governor.

A plea for the payment of teachers during 12 months of the year was voiced by W. L. Harding, former governor of Iowa. Dr. T. W. Galloway of the American Social Hygiene association, New York City, spoke on "The social and moral bearing of sex."

The nucleus of what may become a successful and beneficial organization was formed when classroom teachers, at a "get-together" meeting organized a temporary association.

The officers chosen were: Norma E. Bunker, Milwaukee, president and Charlotte Kohn, La Crosse, secretary. Ethel Gardner, Milwaukee, was chosen chairman of the organization committee. Other members of the committee are: Ethel Dickey, New Richmond; Josephine Brabant, Madison; Helen Wyatt and M. Hill, Superior.

The association as explained by Miss Gardner is not in opposition to the state organization but to form a closer spirit of cooperation among the different groups of classroom teachers.

OPERATES WHILE HOSPITAL BURNS

By United Press Leased Wire
Madison.—When fire was discovered in the attic of the Methodist hospital here, Dr. James A. Jackson had a patient in the operating room on the top floor. The man on the table was under ether and the incision had been made.

"We've got to go on," said Jackson to his assistants. The operating room was filled with smoke when the fire broke out. The patient was then carried out of the operating room and removed to another hospital.

Thirty-five patients were carried out and removed to another hospital. The blaze was caused by crossed wires. The damage by fire was slight.

RELIGION TOOK A BACK SEAT DURING DARKTOWN BATTLE

St. Paul, Minn.—Sweet words and soothing psalms were absent Friday night when members of the Memorial Baptist church, colored, met to vote on retention or rejection of their pastor.

The Rev. Thomas J. Carr, with the courage of a traitor, entered with his wife and son just as opposing factions in the church were arrayed for battle. A few hours before 15 members of the congregation had secured a temporary court injunction restraining him from "having" any business around this hazy church.

In a few minutes there was weeping and wailing and gnashing of teeth. Mrs. Grantin charged the minister's son-in-law, and alleged some one stabbed her with a knife. At first the knife was said to be a foot long, but on questioning it dwindled to a pen knife.

Police separated the opposing factions. Several husky colored men stood guard over the pastor.

Demented Youth Thought He Was Martyr When He Murdered Premier Hara

ULSTER COULD SWING IRISH TOWARD PEACE

Acceptance of Premier's Promise May Speed Peace Conference

By Ed L. Keen
London.—Premier Craig of Ulster conferred with Lloyd George here Saturday on the proposed conference for peace in Ireland.

After the conference Craig declared he had arranged that when Ulster interests are reached in the peace negotiations "all our representatives will attend the meeting."

"Meanwhile," he said "nothing is to be settled behind our backs."

Sir Robert Horne, chancellor of the exchequer, and Austen Chamberlain, leader of the conservative party, visited Lloyd George while he was conferring with Craig.

Continuance of the negotiations hangs, it is believed on Ulster's acceptance of Lloyd George's new compromise. This provides for a united Ireland with northern and southern parliaments both under one supreme body.

A full meeting of the peace conference is expected to follow Craig's statement as to what concessions Ulster is willing to make.

It was widely stated that hope for success of Lloyd George's new compromise is not very strong. The plan has been only roughly outlined and under it both Ulster and the government are asking concessions from Sinn Fein, which the "Republican" leaders have so far refused to consider. They are believed to be standing for a united Ireland, virtually independent, under one parliament, or at least for surrender by Ulster of two of its counties which have Catholic majorities which have been contented should be under the southern parliament, if there are to be two parliaments.

Belfast.—In violation of the Irish truce, armed men, supposedly Sinn Feiners, Saturday raided the police barracks at Kesh, looted the constables in their cells and seized the contents of the arsenal. Rifles, ammunition and bombs were carried away in motor cars.

Sealed Lips Of Dead Man Will Not Halt Probe

Kenshu.—Despite the death here Friday of John Newbauer, the man suspected in connection with the murder of Kasimir Gintoft, District Attorney Symmonds is continuing the investigation. The body of Gintoft was exhumed and search will be made Saturday for the bullets which caused his death.

If the bullets fit a gun in possession of the district attorney, it is said that it will constitute the only missing link of evidence in establishing the fact that Gintoft was murdered instead of committing suicide.

CALL ON WOMEN OF U. S. TO SUPPORT ARMS CONFERENCE

Mrs. Thomas G. Winter Calls on All Clubs to Stir up Public Sentiment

By Carl D. Groat
Washington.—Millions of clubwomen on the nation over will be urged the next few days to stir public opinion to the depths in support of the arms limitation conference.

A circular with this appeal—asking whether the nation wants "war or peace; sanity or insanity; life or death" has been forwarded to the organizations of the General Federation of Women's clubs by President Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, Minneapolis, who is also a member of the conference advisory council. This circular, which is being sent to all clubwomen, asks the organizers know where these women stand, has the approval of the White House and state department.

Mrs. Winter is in an interview Saturday that she hopes for progress but does not believe armaments can be scrapped completely. In fact, she added, "pacifists are trying to lead the whole conference by saying they will demand complete disarmament. I don't believe that can be done now; it can only come when the world reaches the stage where it needs no police."

Mrs. Winter views pessimistically the world's future if this conference fails.

"If we lose our moral sense and adopt the idea of utter frightfulness for a new war—touching even non-combatants—then Germany has been victorious by putting across her philosophy—a philosophy of terror which we at the outset of the war held intolerable," she declared.

KANSAS WHEAT SELLING AT 85 CENTS A BUSHEL

By United Press Leased Wire
Union City, Kas.—Wheat was sold here Saturday by farmers for 85 cents a bushel, the lowest price since before the world war began.

Richards Answers Last Instalment Of Questions

This is Richards' final instalment of questions and answers, and although hundreds have come in since the announcement of the answers, he could answer no more questions beyond those already received insofar as it was possible. He has spent a great part of his spare time in preparing the answers. If your answer is not here it is due entirely to the fact that it arrived too late to be published in this edition of the Post-Crescent. No partiality has been shown to anyone, first come, first served, and questions have come in from all sections around Appleton, which distinctly shows the extensive circulation of the Post-Crescent. If your question is not here today take it to the Appleton theatre where Richards will doubtless be glad to answer you during the mental portion of his big mystery show. He will give three more performances in Appleton, tonight, Sunday matinee and night. Richards has a splendid attraction that requires a special railroad baggage carload of scenery and effects, a large company and special orchestra. Following is the fifth and final instalment of answers, and as no private interviews are granted the only place you can now receive an answer will be at the theatre.

F. A. W.—Who stole my bird dog?
Ans.—I don't mention names of criminals in the paper, but it was the tallest of the two men with whom you went hunting last Sunday. You will recover your dog by making proper demands for him from this party.

H. A. K.—When will I acquire work again? Will my wife or I die first?
Ans.—You will get work in a very few days, it will be rather satisfactory to you at first but will serve you well in a more suitable position later on. I never told about a death, it only causes needless worry until the time comes. Neither of you are destined to die for some time, however.

F. A. A.—Is my husband true to me?
Ans.—As true as the average husband who has been married a year or more.

H. E. W.—Please advise me about two rings I lost last April.
Ans.—They were lost as you thought and I regret to say you never will recover either of them.

E. E. R.—My husband owns two lots in Chicago, will his investment ever prove profitable?
Ans.—Yes, but tell him to hold onto this property at least two more years.

T. R.—Will my son-in-law, G. H. ever move his family to the north?
Ans.—I do not see him making this move for some time, but later he will do so if proper inducements are offered to him.

L. W.—How can I become more popular at school? Am I considered pretty?
Ans.—Just treat everyone as you would like to be treated yourself, don't hold yourself aloof from others and never present to be in any way inferior in your manner. Be a "good fellow" but still retain a little dignity and you will find it will help you considerably. Looks is entirely a matter of opinion, but a majority of the boys think you are pretty.

C. L. C.—Where is my scarf pin with the pearl setting?
Ans.—Look in the second drawer of your dresser under your summer underwear as you will find it.

G. H.—What is the nature of the trouble in my side?
Ans.—I advise you to consult a reliable physician at once.

M. N.—Please tell me if the blond man I am in love with loves me.
Ans.—He cares a great deal for you, and with proper, tactful conduct, you will win him.

Poor Student Had Mind Saturated With Political Hatred for Jap Leader

WILL MAKE UP NEW CABINET

Foreigners at Armament Conference Here Will Be Guarded by Secret Service

By Clarence DuBois
(Copyright 1921 by United Press)
Tokyo.—"I did this for the welfare of Japan," was the declaration Saturday of Nakakura, Japanese, arrested as the assassin of Premier Hara of Japan.

"I killed Hara because of the criticism of him which I read in the newspapers," he told a United Press correspondent in the jail here.

Nakakura maintained a bold, proud demeanor and showed no sign of repentance for what he had done.

He declared he had no regret whatever, and regarded himself as a martyr and a benefactor of Japan.

Nakakura is of the type of poor student often seen in Japan. He is of good family but was forced to leave school to earn a living. He was known as an omnivorous reader, and had soaked in the criticism published in the papers bitterly opposed to the premier.

Although he is certain to hang, he was frankly exceedingly proud of his deed.

Uchida Temporary Premier

Although Count Uchida has been named temporary premier it was believed that a permanent premier would soon be named.

It was believed here that Marquis Kimmochi Saionji, former premier and leader of the Seiyu-Kai party, was the most probable choice as Hara's permanent successor.

Marquis Saionji, on three different occasions when ministries have fallen, has occupied the position of temporary premier.

Baron Shimpei Goto, former minister of foreign affairs and long prominent in Japanese politics, was considered as second choice.

"Throughout Japan were evidences of the extreme sorrow," said the death of the premier. "Everywhere expressions of regret and sympathy for the dead premier were heard."

—Wanted No Praise

The will of Premier Hara, which has been made public, discloses that small self being only his name, he was the only mark of his final resting place.

It forbids explicitly the mention of his tomb of any of the honors and titles which he held or of his accomplishments.

Hara had a premonition that he would be assassinated. It was learned Saturday. He told friends recently that he feared a violent death at the hands of some assassin.

The funeral of the dead premier will be held November 11, at Morioka, his birthplace, in the northeastern part of Japan.

The body will leave Tokyo Nov. 7 on a special train for Morioka.

Continued in power in Japan of the Seiyu-Kai Party, of which the dead premier Hara was a member, seemed probable Saturday.

Despite the customary designation of the cabinet on account of the death of its active head, announcement that Count Uchida would continue in office after the cabinet's resignation, as temporary premier, indicated continued strength of the Seiyu-Kai party.

Formal appointment of the new premier will be made by the emperor.

Guard Arms Delegates

Washington.—Assassination of Premier Hara probably will have no effect on Japanese policies at the arms limitation conference, Prince Tokugawa, one of the principal Japanese delegates, said Saturday.

Tokugawa, who broke into tears at the news of the tragedy, stated that Japan's program in the conference had been agreed upon with other Japanese government leaders closely associated with Hara and that there was every reason to believe the late premier's successor would follow these policies.

Precautions for safeguarding the lives of all distinguished foreigners who will be here during the armament conference were being made Saturday following assassination of Premier Hara.

Officials of the secret service are preparing to give every protection to the guests of the American government and are assigning crack operatives to detachments on arrival. Consensus has appropriated $10,000 for this purpose and an extra appropriation of $50,000 to increase the district police force temporarily has been asked.

HUNT FOR MISSING NEENAH RESIDENT

Neenah.—Police throughout Wisconsin were asked Saturday to aid in the search for Fred Eichen, 40, secretary of the local series. Eichen's disappearance was reported last week.

Fear that Eichen was the victim of foul play was expressed by John R. Schneider, president of the Eagles. Although police and friends have been searching for him ever since he disappeared, no trace of the man could be found.

ROUSING WELCOME BY HOME FOLKS FOR MISS EDNA FERBER

Famous Writer is Greeted Enthusiastically by Big Crowd in Chapel

"Did you ever have a wonderful dream and suddenly wake up to find that wonderful dream had come true? That is the way I feel about speaking in Appleton. I have always wanted to speak here and I never have, because nobody ever asked me to be here, I guess."

That was the greeting which Edna Ferber, famous short story writer gave to more than 1,000 Appleton people who had gathered in Lawrence Memorial chapel Friday evening to enjoy her homecoming. The successful authoress, who at one time was a reporter on the old Evening Crescent (getting $3 a week and earning it, as she told her friends Friday evening) was brought to Appleton by the English department of Lawrence college.

"Coming from Appleton is like belonging to the Masons or the Eastern Star or any other international organization," said Miss Ferber in telling her eager audience of what it means to come back home. "Appleton is the globe trotting town of the world. Everywhere from Alaska to Florida, from Rome to Munich, from New York to San Francisco, there is some one who once lived in Appleton, who has relatives in Appleton, who knew someone who lived in Appleton or who knew someone who knew of someone else who came from here. Remember Friends

"Old age does have its recompense. It boils out all the bitterness and leaves nothing but sweet-memory pictures of people whose whole beings were kindness. Edna's friends here in Appleton, I remember them but I feel rested all over. If I were in need today they would help me just as surely as they often helped me. Then there is that witty Irishman, Arthur Howe. And Mrs. Ellis, who has time for sunsets and flowers and things and Judge Kreiss who was so kind to our family. And that gorgeous human being, Ella Malone."

And then the authoress who has been able to describe those who perhaps no other writer has ever done so that you can see, smell and taste it, paid a compliment to her old friend and neighbor, Mrs. Joseph Koffend. She said: "If I were in some God forsaken spot, Tibet, for instance, I don't know where Tibet is and never shall, but it sounds so far away. If I were in Tibet and dying and for some reason wanted to be buried somewhere in the middle of the night, no matter how she had to travel, by airplane or walk, Mrs. Joe Koffend would bring me that pie."

And then there was Joe Uhlman, they don't make them any kinder than he. And back at the Crescent office, there was good old Sam Ryan, swearing at me as he crumpled the papers under the desk and teaching me things that you cannot learn any place but in a small town newspaper office."

Reads Two Stories
After Miss Ferber read two of her short stories, "The Gay Old Dog," and "The Homely Heroine," old friends literally swarmed to the stage to talk to her. There were old high school chums, college girl admirers, people whom she had met since she left Appleton, people who have known her only as a writer, people who were human stories, intimate friends of the family and those who had gone to the Ferber store to buy dolls with lovely china heads and red cloth bodies, each of them glad to welcome her home, and each one eager to tell her what she and her stories had meant to them.

It was a glad scene, tinged with tears, as the authoress, who was Miss Ferber in a lovely black velvet gown, her arms and hands full of flowers, the offerings of friends and admirers, surrounded by those people who had known her as a seventeen year old reporter or a pitted high school girl. If Appleton people have resented Miss Ferber's stories because of what they supposed to be a portrayal of themselves, her homecoming gave no hint of it. No one who heard her read her stories Friday evening will ever be sure that he can find "Mrs. So-and-So" in them again.

Miss Ferber chose as her readings of the evening, the "Gay Old Dog," that story of the brother of three sisters, who was bound by a death bed promise to his mother not to marry before all the girls were provided for. He missed his own chance to marry and then the inevitable happened, the girls were almost automatically taken care of, two marrying and the third going into social service. The man then makes a fortune in the war and becomes what is known in Chicago's loop as a "Gay Old Dog." To read Miss Ferber's stories is to enjoy them but to hear Miss Ferber read them is to live with her characters.

As her second story she chose "The Homely Heroine," the first short story which she ever wrote. It was completed in a small room in the old house on North Street where the Ferbers lived. It was also the story which made every girl in Appleton feel that Miss Ferber had used her as the heroine intentionally. Miss Ferber said that it wasn't about anybody or at least she hoped that it wasn't because she cannot always tell. She added that sometimes her own mother will not speak to her because Miss Ferber is sure that Edna is using her.

Richards Answers Last Instalment Of Questions

Couragement will mean a great deal to you, in fact would marry you.

C. L. R.—Is my husband true to me? Will our future plans be successful?
Ans.—He is true, but still, don't forget he is no different than the average man along this line. Your plans will come out O. K.

L. R.—Does the girl I am going with love me?

Ans.—No, she only likes you. I see nothing very serious in her mind concerning marriage at present.

L. J. J.—I have been securing on a job in South America with the Du Ponts, will it mature?

Ans.—I don't seem to see you getting this, but another offer.

J. N.—I have five children at home

J. L. W.—Who and when will I marry?

Ans.—You will marry the young man who called to see you last Tuesday evening and with whom you went for a ride in a Buick car. You will be married in about four months.

I. M. L.—Will my investments in Calif. and Ariz. pay me some day?

Ans.—I see you getting more first out of the Copper mine than the other, although both will be paying investments.

R. B.—How will my oil stock turn out?

Ans.—I regret to tell you that I don't see you getting anything out of this.

G. R. L.—Is my girl true to me or does she love someone else?

Ans.—She is only going with you and want to know if they will turn out to be perfect ladies and gentlemen.

Ans.—Give them all a good education, keep them in proper company and environment and they will come out alright.

E. N.—Will we have our home by next year without any debt on it?

Ans.—I see you having a little debt on it at that time, but by careful arrangement of your financial affairs this can be satisfactorily adjusted.

O. W. H.—Is it best for me to go with a light or a dark complexioned girl?

Ans.—The dark one is the best suited to your disposition and you to her.

C. McG.—Will I make a success at writing life insurance?

Ans.—Yes, but you really won't do very well until about three months of 1922 have passed.

J. T.—Will the next one be a boy or a girl?

Ans.—You will have two more children within the next two and a half years. Both will be boys.

M. J. B.—Would it be best for me to buy property I am figuring on now or wait a while?

Ans.—You will be able to buy at a better figure later on.

A. L. R.—Can you please tell me where I can find my rings?

Ans.—Your son needed some money and sold them about seven weeks ago in Milwaukee, Wis. He took them with him when he left home.

F. C. J.—Will I ever inherit any money from a rich uncle?

Ans.—I see you getting some money from a legacy of some kind, but it is quite a distance into the

for a good time, as she is now secretly engaged to your friend (?) A. O. She likes you as a friend.

G. A.—Is my uncle still 'living'?

Ans.—He died two years ago last August in Pueblo, Col. You can get full particulars from the coroner at that place.

O. G. R.—Who and when am I going to marry?

Ans.—I see you receiving a proposal in about four months, accept that one and you will be fairly happy.

J. J.—I am taking lessons in show card writing. Will I be successful?

Ans.—Fairly so, but advise you to connect with a good sign company and get the practical experience.

M. M.—Will I get the position I am looking for?

Ans.—Yes, I see you getting it in the near future.

A. K.—Will I get my Grandson and did his stepfather leave any money for the boy?

Ans.—You can get him, but I see no money being left for the boy by his stepfather.

P. I.—I am keeping company with a dark complexioned gentleman, is he true to me?

Ans.—He is as true as any man is true to one girl.

A. H.—Will I get the money in the spring as promised by a relative?

Ans.—I see you getting the money O. K. but it will be some later than the spring.

N. A. G.—I have gone into partnership with a local contractor and want to know if everything will come out in good faith.

Ans.—A verbal agreement is a bad thing usually and will be so in your future and I cannot distinctly discern from whom you will receive it. It will not be a very large amount.

D. McG.—Is there any oil on our Oka property?

Ans.—Yes, it is a sand pool as near as I can discern, and would pay you well to sell leases, but there is not enough oil to pay you to finance or even help finance the drilling.

M. J. H.—Will our investment in flour bring returns?

Ans.—It is a safe investment but will not yield any returns on your money for a long time.

R. D.—Will I get results if I keep up my present treatment?

Ans.—Yes, follow instruction, carefully for the best results.

F. C. W.—My sister lost some money (in a 'fin' and a motor journey, will she recover them?

Ans.—I am sorry to say the articles have changed hands too often to trace by my index, and I only see that you never will recover any of them.

H. E. A.—Is my husband true to me and should we make the move we are thinking of doing?

Ans.—He is true as the average husband, but do not make the chance right now, not before the very latter part of this year or early in the coming year.

C. J.—My boss thinks he is going to lose out. I don't. Who is right?

Ans.—Literally, you are right, but your "boss" needs to keep up his business stamina and not be so easily discouraged or he will lose out. If he goes ahead normally he will profit greatly by it inside of six months.

J. H.—Tell me the whereabouts of my diamonds.

Ans.—They were stolen some time ago, but aside from that I can see nothing of them.

D. E. E.—Who sent me an undelivered letter two weeks ago telling me about my husband's infidelity? Was it a man or woman?

Ans.—It was sent by a friend of yours by the name of Mrs. W. Baker. It was prompted through jealousy, and I would advise you to forget the matter and Mrs. Baker too. Your husband did not go where she said he did although he was with a lady friend.

case as I see dispute over it and later a breaking up of this partnership unless you get out proper partnership papers at once. You have an opportunity of doing well financially next year and the year after, but you need a better and more substantial working agreement.

This is Richards last question, but if yours was not here it is due simply to it arriving too late to be answered. However Richards doubtless will be glad to answer you at the Appleton theatre either tonight or Sunday matinee or night.

SHANNON LECTURE TO START AT 8:15 SUNDAY EVENING

Noted Chicago Man Unable to Be Here in Time to Start at 7:30

Because Dr. Frederick F. Shannon, who is to speak in Lawrence Memorial chapel Sunday evening on "Disarmament" is unable to leave Chicago until late in the afternoon, he will not reach Appleton in time to start the program at 7:30 as has been previously announced. As a result the program will not start until 8:15 and the speaker will start a short time later. The late start for the first number was unavoidable. Every effort was made to bring Dr. Shannon here earlier in the evening but it was impossible.

Dean Carl W. Waterman of Lawrence Conservatory of Music has arranged an interesting but brief musical program to open the meeting. It follows:

Organ Solos
Guilman .....Sonata No. 4 Finale
Klinder .....Meditation
Margaret Engler

Duets
Verdi .....11 Trovatori
Tschakowsky .....Pique Dame
Sole .....Sole
Logue .....Pale Moon
Roadways .....Densmore
George Mecholson

Questions will be asked from the floor after Dr. Shannon's address. This is one of the biggest features of the forum meetings and is expected to stimulate much interest.

A capable corps of ushers has been secured by J. J. Angold, chairman of the ushers committee so that the crowd can be handled without confusion.

Dr. Shannon is one of America's greatest speakers and is to talk on a subject especially timely. It is believed a new record for attendance will be established.

Financial Protection
Kites rise against, not with the wind. Then why should any man have a greater respect for extravagance than he has for a substantial savings account in a bank. We would ask this very same man, who no doubt would be insulted were he openly charged with neglecting to properly provide for his family, to explain how he can deliberately rob them of financial protection.

The Squander Man
The man who does not save, naturally does not practice Thrift. He spends his dollars as fast as he acquires them. He argues it is his money, and he thinks he has the right to squander it in any way he wishes. This sort of man is his own worst enemy.

The Best Protection
Let every thinking mortal with a heart, who loves his home, take this advice: Don't spend your money for unnecessary things, put the amount that you have been spending foolishly, in the bank, and it will not be long before you have provided for your family the very best protection in the world — MONEY IN THE BANK.

RED CROSS HELP SAVED TWO LIVES IN LAST 30 DAYS

More Than 200 Nursing Visits
Paid in One Month, October-Report Shows

Two hundred nursing visits were made to homes in Outagamie-co. during the month of October by Miss Clara VanSlyke, public health Red Cross nurse, according to her report for the month just filed with headquarters.

Thirty-three families were visited. Health talks and demonstrations have been given Camp Fire girls once each week during the month, in connection with the work the Red Cross is doing in safeguarding the public health.

Several emergencies have been met by Miss VanSlyke during the month. In one case where a family had typhoid fever, she taught the oldest child how to bathe the patients, helped in keeping the sick room and food in proper condition and has supplied articles from the Red Cross loan closet such as disinfectants and sick-room equipment.

In one serious case of scarlet fever an Appleton doctor asked the Red Cross to supply a nurse at once. Miss VanSlyke could not go herself on a contagious case because she must go from house to house so she secured another nurse at once and cooperated with her in getting the things that were needed. The doctor declared that the nurse's efforts saved two lives.

Besides these cases, work done during the month included prenatal

BAGG HAS FAITH IN PEAT PLANT

Lawrence Instructor Describes Center Swamp in Article in College Paper

The current issue of The Technograph, published quarterly by the students of the college of engineering, university of Illinois, of which Arthur J. Ingold, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Ingold, 463 College-ave., is editor, contains a 2-page article on the peat bog of Center swamp in Outagamie-co. by Dr. R. M. Bagge of Lawrence college, a portion of which reads:

"About one year ago the writer examined the peat deposit of Center swamp, five miles northwest of Appleton, Wis., with reference to its utilization for fuel. Borings were taken in sections along all drainage ditches and where the Soo railroad crosses this bog by means of ship auger welded to galvanized gas pipe.

"Sampling this bog revealed the following interesting geologic history of the region:

"The glacial ice advance must have deepened and gouged a depression into a basin nearly five miles in length and a mile wide though the present peat deposit and swamp area is less than this size today. The depression was egg-shaped and deepened on the west end and its oval eastern margin began to fill with sand bars and sheets of sand from a foot to six feet thick.

"Clay was slowly deposited in undisturbed waters, perhaps from melting ice sheets west and north, it is homogeneous, highly plastic, and of a rich chocolate brown color. All but one per cent of this clay passes through 100 mesh screen and all but two per cent will go through a 200 mesh sieve

EIGHT CHURCHES JOIN Y. M. C. A. IN DAD AND SON WEEK

NAME COMMISSION TO FIX DAMAGES

John J. Sherman was made a chairman and Daniel P. Steinhilber secretary at a meeting in the court house Friday morning of the commission appointed by Judge E. V. Werner to determine compensation to be paid by the city for land necessary for widening Lenox-st. for a distance of 1,200 feet as authorized by the common council recently.

First notice of appointment of state and federal aid amounting to nearly $82,575 for road improvement in Outagamie-co. in 1922, has been received by A. G. Brusewitz, county highway commissioner.

Of this amount, $15,285.21 comes here directly from the state treasury. All of this sum must be expended for the improvement of state roads or half of it may be used in improvement of roads which may later be included in the state highway system.

Federal and state aid for concrete construction on highway 18 will amount to $67,289.19 and the county must meet this by an appropriation of $31,258.46. This money will be used to pay for paving to be laid in the 4 1/2 mile gap which still remains on highway 18 between Appleton and Appleton. It is not believed, however, that the combined sums will complete this stretch.

The ladies of St. John's church will serve dinner and supper in connection with the annual mission festival Sunday Nov. 6th. Dinner 35 cents, supper 25 cents. All friends of the congregation are cordially invited.

$82,575 OFFERED FOR WORK ON ROADS

First notice of appointment of state and federal aid amounting to nearly $82,575 for road improvement in Outagamie-co. in 1922, has been received by A. G. Brusewitz, county highway commissioner.

Of this amount, $15,285.21 comes here directly from the state treasury. All of this sum must be expended for the improvement of state roads or half of it may be used in improvement of roads which may later be included in the state highway system.

Federal and state aid for concrete construction on highway 18 will amount to $67,289.19 and the county must meet this by an appropriation of $31,258.46. This money will be used to pay for paving to be laid in the 4 1/2 mile gap which still remains on highway 18 between Appleton and Appleton. It is not believed, however, that the combined sums will complete this stretch.

The ladies of St. John's church will serve dinner and supper in connection with the annual mission festival Sunday Nov. 6th. Dinner 35 cents, supper 25 cents. All friends of the congregation are cordially invited.

PAMPHLET TELLS STORY OF WORK OF COUNTY RED CROSS

Outagamie Chapter Spent Little More Than $7,000 To Carry on Work

Complying with a request made in the meeting held recently to make plans for the annual Red Cross membership drive campaign, Hugh G. Corbett, chairman of the roll call, is preparing a bulletin which explains fully but briefly the activities of the Outagamie-co. chapter during the last year. Thousands of copies of the bulletin will be sent out through the county.

Besides giving the annual report of Red Cross work in the county during the last year, which was recently made public, the bulletin places the total expenditures of the chapter during the year at $7,255. Nursing units by Red Cross nurses, instruction in home nursing, a chest clinic held at Oneida, and 17 children's operations financed by the Red Cross cost a total of $4,645. Assistant rendered former service units cost $1,820. Office maintenance cost $695. New garment work just started has cost $65 and rent and equipment for rest rooms and first aid service cost $60.

The local chapter sent $2,955 to national Red Cross headquarters at Washington which represented 50 cents from each $1 membership fee collected.

H. J. Schmit, who has been confined to his room for several days with an infected knee, returned to his duties at the Novelty Boot Shop.

Edward Lyon of New London, was an Appleton visitor Friday.

Tot "Tums To Town To Buy Mama A Hat"

"I tum down town to buy mamma a new hat."

This was the prattle which greeted shoppers in downtown stores and on the street Friday afternoon from the lips of Ruth Ellsworth, three year old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. J. Ellsworth of 757 Union-st., who had slipped away from home on a shopping excursion of her own.

A kindly woman finally took the child in charge and turned her over to a policeman who took her to the police station. There the child repeated her reason for being out without escort and readily gave her name. Her parents were notified and her father called for her a few minutes later. In the meantime Ruth seemed quite content with her surroundings, happy in the prospect of "buying mamma a new hat."

Returns from East
Miss Anna Ruth Greeley daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Greeley, 471 Washington st., recently returned from Walter Reed general hospital where she completed a 3 year course in the Army School of Nursing. Miss Greeley expects to resume work in some nursing field after a short vacation.

WOMAN AVOIDS AN OPERATION

Hope Nearly Gone, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Saved Her

Star, N. C.—"My monthly spells gave me so much trouble, sometimes they would last two weeks. I was treated by two doctors without relief and they both said I would have to have an operation. I had my trouble four years and was unfit to do anything and had given up all hope of ever getting any better. I read about your medicine in the 'Primitive Baptist' paper and decided to try it. I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills for about seven months and now I am able to do my work. I shall never forget your medicine and you may publish this if you want to as it is true."—Mrs. J. F. Hursey, Star, N. C.

Here is another woman who adds her testimony to the many whose letters we have already published, proving that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound often restores health to suffering women even after they have gone so far that an operation is deemed advisable. Therefore it will surely pay any woman who suffers from such ailments to try it.

KAUKAUNA TAKES ON STRONG TEAM

Racine Iriquois Plays at Kaukauna Sunday—Wins Attendance Prize

Kaukauna—Considerable fear is expressed by football fans that the Kaukauna American legion has taken a big bite by signing a game with the Racine Iriquois for Sunday afternoon at Kaukauna ball park. Others are confident that the bite will eventually be well chewed, and digested in spite of the rumor that Racine has a wonderful team. It is said that a professional team in that city recently disbanded and that six of the players have been pressed into the ranks of the Iriquois as amateur players.

The truth is Kaukauna has a bigger job than usual on its hands and the players are aware of the fact. Although it is not as heavy as many of the opponents who went down before it, the legion line is dangerous and can be counted upon to make things interesting for any team.

Revue Goes Big
The second presentation of the Fox club revue Friday evening at the auditorium was a howling success. Everything went off well. Numbers which especially appealed to the audience were "All For You" sung by Miss Genevieve DeBrie, Orville Crockett and chorus; "East Asleep in Poppyland," a catchy Chinese song by a chorus of Chinese maids with Miss Ruth Conon in the lead role. The revue was closed with a minstrel sketch, "Circus Day in Dixie" which portrayed homo life among the negroes.

Wins Attendance Prize
Winslow Green is six dollars ahead as a result of attending the regular Kaukauna Eagle meeting Thursday evening in Eagle hall. The usual drawing was made and Mr. Green became the owner of all the money placed in the box since the plan was adopted by the order. About 20 applications for membership were presented. It is expected a class of more than 50 candidates will be ready for initiation at the second meeting in December when the Appleton degree team will be invited to put on the work. Other routine business was disposed of.

Memorial Services
Annual memorial services for its deceased members will be observed by Holy Cross Church No. 399, Catholic Order of Foresters Sunday at Holy Cross church. The Foresters will approach Holy Communion in a body.

Drivers Should Know About Steering Gear

Front Wheels of Your Automobile Do Not Run "True"—Should be Watched

Suppose it should break—the steering apparatus of an automobile going at even ordinary speed? One needs to have no very vivid imagination to picture the possibilities of disaster. The thought brings up visions of a car making wreckage out of itself and everything in its path, plus horrible human suffering.

A broken steering apparatus leaves the driver in a more helpless position than the collapse of almost any other part of the machine.

When a motorist thinks of running without the steering rod he pictures wheels trying to go in divergent directions, with his ultimate destination the ditch. As a matter of fact, it is possible to run a considerable distance at moderate speed with only one wheel connected to the steering apparatus, as experiments have demonstrated.

The front wheels of an automobile also have other peculiarities not usually understood by the amateur driver. For instance, most people think that the front wheels of an auto should be perfectly true in every way; that is, that they should run exactly parallel. But they do not run parallel from any viewpoint. The front wheels actually toe in to a slight degree; that is, the distance between the front part of the wheels should be one-quarter to three-eighths of an inch less than the distance measured between the back parts.

Wheels Toe In
Theoretically there would be a wear on the tires if they were at all out of true, but when it comes to the practical consideration of an auto there are certain variations of this which are necessary to make the operation of the car safe and a matter of ease. Of course, there cannot be too great a difference in the alignment, but a very slight difference is necessary to enable the steering to be a matter of certainty. There will be an intangible amount of extra wear but it does not cut any particular figure in the life of the tire and it gives a stability to the steering which cannot be neglected.

Keeps Car Steady
If the wheels toe in a little there is exactly the same pressure effect working from opposite directions. Each seeks to go slightly out of true and each offsets that tendency in the other. This naturally keeps the car steady and the wheels pass over slight obstructions without turning them in the slightest degree. Only a rut or some large obstruction would cause them to turn, and this would be the case under all circumstances.

In case there is wear due to neglected lubrication or otherwise, the wobbling tendency is especially noticeable. Sometimes the pins are inclined fore and aft; that is, the bottom is further forward than the top. This is to help the wheels pointed straight ahead by making the wheels into a sort of caster, that they trail easily. The knuckles are directly over the centers of the wheels and the line of weight would be directly downward, but the pins point forward. In this way, the line of weight is moved forward and the weight is carried ahead of the contact point of the tire with the ground.

It is tremendously important that automobile owners have the steering apparatus regularly inspected to see that the pins are kept tight and that the wheels do not get too much out of alignment. The pin might drop out when going down a steep hill, or when running at high speed. And there is extra wear on tires when the wheels are not properly set. And there is, of course, great possibility of disaster when anything happens to the steering parts of an automobile. These parts represent a consideration of serious importance.

SOME TIME

(With apologies to Eugene Field)
Last night, my Buick, as you slept,
I thought I heard you sigh,
And out to your garage I crept,
And watched a space thereby:
Then, bending down, I oiled you up—
For, Oh! I love you so—
You are too new to know it now,
But some time you shall know.

Some time, when, on a muddy road,
Where many cars are stuck,
You'll see the others all get towed
While you'll sail thru the muck:
Your engine fine will carry you
Where'er you want to go—
You are too new to know it now,
But some time you shall know.

Your usefulness for many years
Will prove a great delight,
And do not be oppressed with fears
That I'll not treat you right,
I'll keep you full of oil and gas
And shine you till you glow—
You are too new to know it now,
But some time you shall know.
—A. Hazel Knutt.

SEEK BETTER ROADBED

During the next half decade the United States government plans to spend over $3,000,000,000 in building permanent high-ways which will ultimately cross and crisscross the nation from coast to coast.

In the past few years road failures have been numerous, principally because most of the roadways were built for horse and wagon traffic and will not stand up under heavy auto trucks.

The Federal Bureau of Roads is daily conducting tests of all kinds of roadbeds. In order to measure the impact pressure exerted by motor trucks of different construction, size, weight and tire equipment, the bureau has devised a novel testing device.

The impact is delivered to a small copper cylinder which previously has been standardized. The cylinder is placed beneath a plunger in a hydraulic jack. The jack is sunk in the roadway and the plunger top is large enough to receive the impact from the rear wheel of an auto truck.

By obliging the truck to pass over the obstruction, dropping from different elevations, the road experts have been able to duplicate every possible condition to be met on the average highway. The blow deforms the cylinder according to its intensity.

With valuable knowledge of the crushing power of traveling motor trucks, the road bureau is now working to find a road construction which will best withstand the blows.

Diagram shows how the auto impact tester works; wheel hits plunger which crushes cylinder, registering impact.

Don't overprime the motor.

Don't continue in high going up hill if the motor begins to labor.

A new car needs considerable oiling before it is "worked in."

BATTERY FILLER

A simple, home-made device for filling the battery with distilled water, without overflowing, consists of a bottle with air control as shown. A rubber cork with a small glass tube is fitted into the mouth, and an eighth-inch hole is drilled a little below the neck. The water can be poured out while the air hole is open. To stop the flow, the thumb is placed over the hole.

PRINCETON TIGER SET FOR BATTLE

Orange and Black Squad Confident of Comeback Against Harvard

By United Press Leased Wire
Princeton, N. J.—All the traditional fighting qualities of the striped jungle cat were worked up Saturday by the Princeton Tigers as they stalked the Jersey jungles after Harvard.

The "old spirit" that enabled the tattered and torn feline to tie Harvard and beat Yale in 1919 after losing to Colgate and West Virginia, worked the campus up to real confidence.

The village was crowded with the advance guard of a mob of 45,000 alumni and fans that are expected to hold forth in the big Palmer stadium when the two elevens line up at 2 o'clock.

Bill Roper, head coach of the Tigers, kept his charges away from the admiring grinds and under-grads that were loudly singing the program dirge for Harvard.

Today's game is the twenty-third between Harvard and Princeton since 1884. Princeton has won eleven while three resulted in ties. Since 1911 when relations were resumed after a lapse of fifteen years, Harvard has won five games and two have been ties.

Princeton was an even money choice as game time approached.

Better Coaching Pays At Gate

Football all over the country is fast getting a greater hold on the public than any other sport, taking in consideration the length of the season.

Seventy-five to eighty thousand people nowadays crowd and jam into a single stadium to see a gridiron mixup. Only a few years ago the audiences were limited to a loyal few who stood on the side lines.

Football is overshadowing even the national pastime in attendance. No eighty thousand ever squeezed through a baseball park's turnstiles. Interest in the game is growing because the quality of the game is growing. Once you were given the dope—and it was largely true—that real football could be found only in the eastern schools.

But the game today is as strong or even stronger in the west and south as in the east, and smaller schools, never head of a few years ago, now figure prominently in the annual selection of All-American teams.

Better Coaching
There is a reason for this.

College football greets wind up their brief college season with the fighting football spirit unsatiated. They join the pro ranks and show greater stuff than they ever did at college, gradually accumulating a knowledge of the game that their old coaches would envy.

These men who have been stars in their days, All-Americans and professionals, are growing in number year by year. They are spreading out all over the country, taking jobs as coaches at western and southern schools. And these schools today are getting a No. 1 training and are playing the brand of football that a few years ago was seen only in the east.

Check over the list of some of these college stars who have graduated into the professional ranks and who now are coaching stellar college grid machines.

Krute Rockne, former Notre Dame star, played with the professional Canton Bulldogs. He has earned himself the name of the "Miracle Man of Notre Dame" through his work with the Irish team in the last three years.

Charley Brickley, former Harvard drop-kicker and now leader of the New York Giants pro football team, as well as an assistant coach at Fordham, is another who's making his work known.

Joe DuMoe, coach at Fordham university, was a former pro with the Akron Indians. Eddie Cassey is another of Harvard's stars who played pro ball last season with Buffalo and who is now successfully leading Mount Union.

Bert Ingwerson, former Illinois star tackle, played with the Staleys two seasons, and now is coaching at Illinois.

Among others making good with teams once little known are: Joe Guzon, former Georgia Tech star and a member of Jim Thorpe's famous Indian backfield, now an assistant coach at Georgia Tech; Paul Sheeks, star of South Dakota; Spiers of Dartmouth; Charley Way, Penn State's All-American halfback, and Al Cobb, Syracuse linesman.

LAWRENCE RESTS FOR RIPON FIGHT

Lawrence college football men are idle today. The date was left open to rest the team before the annual struggle with Ripon which takes place here next Saturday as the feature of homecoming day. The team worked out on Lawrence field this morning and rested in the afternoon. Heavy scrumming work to condition the men for a hard fight will be in order the first of next week. McGhesney has polished off the rough edge of his team's defensive and offensive play and wants to put the men under a severe test for a few evenings.

Ripon can look forward to a regular fight next Saturday. If it attempts an aerial attack it will find Lawrence ready and a line smash-game will be just to McGhesney's liking. All the men are in good condition for a regular fight.

WORTHY Foe FOR GREEN BAY SQUAD

Green Bay, Wis.—The Evansville, Ind., Giants and Green Bay Packers will lock horns in an American Professional Football league game here at Hagemeister park, Sunday afternoon. The kick off has been set for 2 o'clock.

The Indiana eleven comes here with an aggregation of former college stars led by "Flash" Lindsey, ex-Wabash captain, who is considered one of the greatest field generals in pro-gridiron circles. Bondurant and Spiegel saw service with Indiana while Henderson was a letter man for three years at Ohio State. Zeller played with Purdue last year.

The Packers' line up will remain intact. All of the star players will be in action. The team has practiced daily during the past week and is in the best form of the season.

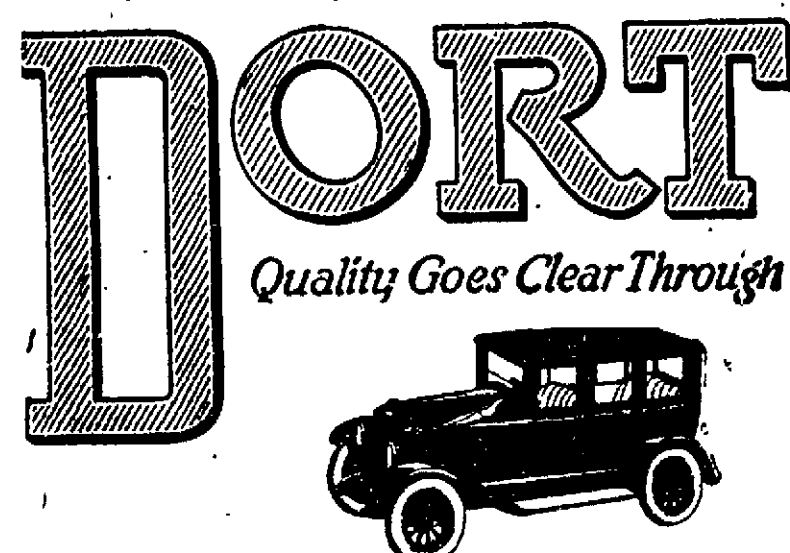

Murphy of Green Bay will referee while Morgan of Evansville will be the umpire. Regulation periods of 15 minutes duration are scheduled.

FANS DISGUSTED WITH "KICKLESS" WRESTLING

By United Press Leased Wire
New York — Denatured wrestling

may have the "kick" put back in it by the state commission as a result of its unsatisfactory debut here last night. "Strangler" Lewis, former champion, weighing 236 pounds threw Joe Polk, weighing 185 pounds in straight falls, the first in 6:40 and the second in 4:10. Lewis did not attempt any of the forbidden holds. The crowd was disappointed and fled out of the hall grumbling.

The modish lines of the new Dort family is carried from radiator to tail-light.

The recent Dort price reduction put this car foremost among automobile values.

There is more beauty and competency in the Dort than in most cars listed from at $1,200 to $1,400. In the ownership of a Dort there is more economy and satisfaction with less depreciation to consider than in any car the market offers today.

Dort in fact completely answers the demand for a stylish and satisfactory car at a popular purchase price.

It will be our pleasure to PROVE to you these pleasant facts—any time.

A MESSAGE OF IMPORTANCE To Owners of Automobiles

Due to the fact that the Automobile Dealers, Accessories and Parts Dealers and Service Shops of Appleton—are required to pay cash in their trade transactions with manufacturers, jobbers and distributors—

They find it imperative and necessary that their business be conducted in a like manner. As a natural consequence the new association has decreed that this business from now on, be placed on a strictly cash basis. The association, however, wishes to be placed in the proper light in this matter. This action was not taken in a spirit of "taking advantage of the public" for the Appleton Dealers are practically the very last in the State to fall in line on this general movement.

Babe Isn't So Bad An Actor, Stage Fans Say

Mt. Vernon, N. Y.—Babe Ruth isn't a bad actor, the natives say who saw the swat king make his stage debut here last night in a sketch "that's good." The Bambino appeared with Wellington Cross and a pianist. He cracked jokes and sang a dialogue number with Cross "little by little." The act was well received and Ruth had to make a curtain speech. Judge Landis was worked into lines when a stage telegram supposed to be from the commissioner was handed to the babe. "Is it serious?" Cross asked. "I should say it is, 75 cents collect," Ruth answered.

ANCIENT RIVALS IN ANNUAL GRID SCRAP

Appleton's Orange and Blue football team took the field this afternoon for a grapple with its ancient enemy from down the river. Kaukauna and Appleton, in other years, were the bitterest rivals but of late their teams did not meet in scholastic games. Last year saw a renewal of athletic relations.

Appleton won last year's football

CHICAGO TACKLES OHIO STATE TEAM

Chicago—Three thousand wild eyed Buckeye rooters swept into Chicago Saturday with "get Chicago" as their battle cry.

Aspirations of Ohio State and Chicago for the western conference championship were to be settled when the two teams meet at Stag field.

The game was Chicago's first big test of the season. Although the Maroon eleven has been touted as the strongest the Midway has seen in many years, the games so far have been easy and failed to give a line on the real strength of the squad.

Ohio State after a poor start against Oberlin, was triumphant in two important games, defeating Michigan and Minnesota.

Thirty thousand seats were sold for the game. Scalpers were obtaining from $15 to $20 each for tickets.

YOUNG LADIES CLUB HAS BOWLING LEAGUE

The bowling league of the Young Ladies sodality of St. Joseph church opened its season in St. Joseph hall Thursday evening. The league consists of four teams, Sunflowers, Morning Glories, Daisies and Golden Rod. In the initial tryout the Sunflowers were pitted against the Morning Glories and the Daisies against the Golden Rods. As several players were absent the scores were not announced. The league will bowl every Thursday evening.

GREB WINS DECISION OVER HEAVY OPPONENT

New York—With a fifteen pound weight advantage against him, Harry Greb, Pittsburgh light heavyweight, won the decision from Charley Weinert, Newark, in a 15 round bout here last night. Greb floored Weinert in day night, doesn't want any of George Hill's game. Hill challenged the winner of the bout to a handicap match, agreeing to throw Van Warden twice in an hour on a winner take all basis. Van Warden thus far has not accepted the challenge.

Efforts thus far to bring poor wrestlers here to meet Hill have been unavailing. Sam Clapham, the British lion, was wired but thus far has not responded to the telegram. Negotiations have been opened with other grapplers and it is probable that a bout will be arranged soon.

The first round and had him wobbling several times.

Young Bob Fitzsimmons, son of the former heavyweight champion, won the decision from Ray Keiser, Baltimore, in an eight round bout.

Scout Football

A football game between the second team of Troop 2 and the first team of Troop 3 in the boy scout intertroop league was played at 10:30 Saturday morning in Jones park.

The Misses Florence Leppa and Pearl Fellows are attending the annual convention of the Wisconsin Teachers association at Milwaukee.

MAKING PLANS FOR INTERCLASS TOURNEY

Preliminary arrangements have been made for the annual interclass basketball tournament at Appleton high school which will be held early in December. Victor Hansen has charge of the freshman team, Everett Johnson of the sophomore team, Leo Leuchlin of the junior team and John Zussman of the senior team, all "A" men. The tournament promises to be one of big events of the school year.

Brandt Bowlers Lose

The Brandt bowling team is not living up to the reputation built up during the summer by the baseball nine. The garage men lost another game of nine Thursday evening to the Cozy restaurant five in a match at Eagle hall. Another game will be bowled next week.
